House Federal and State Affairs
Chair. Rep. Tom Kessler

Mr. Chairman and Committee,

I support this legislation.

The United States, a group of sovereign States, in a constitutional compact that formed a limited federal government of which has few enumerated powers by consent of the governed, is presented with the question whether that consent rests on the individual or a one world communistic government. [1]

Karma or providence, prosperity or discipline, points to ponder as we consider the purpose of our government, to rule over the people or to defend each citizen's individual, natural, fundamental, and God-given rights of Life, Liberty (freedom with morality) and the pursuit of Family and felicity. Through obedience to a higher call, this government, of which you are representative, was instituted of, for, and by the people, not for the "world health organization", not for the "united nations" and certainly not for the "world economic forum". This obedience must continue to keep our Republic, and it must continue in the hearts of the people to keep our blessing and the blessing of posterity.

One example of the need for this legislation is to sever the ideological noose of the "single convention on narcotic drugs, 1961" from the united nations. [2] This document has been referenced by both Republicans and Democrats as an unconstitutional reason the United States federal government must prohibit certain plants to "make provision for the control of the production of raw materials". This action also involved the representation of specialized agencies including the "food and agriculture organization of the united nations", the "international labour organization" and the "world health organization", in addition to NGO's like the "international criminal police organization". Kansas with sovereignty and as an agricultural State, has been unconstitutionally burdened by the federal government that went outside the bounds of its enumerated powers internally and externally by allowing foreign entities to tread upon the rights of the State of Kansas as well as its citizens, not only in principle but also in substance, especially when it comes to the prohibition of plants, specifically cannabis, with its nutritive and health maintenance anti-inflammatory properties. [3]

This document and "treaty" also institute communist principles of "international control machinery" with coordinated and universal measures including "addict containment facilities" to combat the "evil of drug addiction" which is purportedly blamed partly on an "unwholesome social atmosphere" beyond that of a criminal nature.

There is also national, state and individual security issues at play as well that should be considered when it comes to supplies of raw materials and being less dependent on foreign and synthetic products/materials. [4,5]
