

SESSION OF 2025

SUPPLEMENTAL NOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 2318

As Amended by House Committee on Taxation

Brief***

HB 2318, as amended, would provide for reduction in state income and privilege tax rates contingent upon growth in State General Fund (SGF) tax receipts in excess of the FY 2024 amount, adjusted for inflation.

The bill would require the Director of the Budget to annually determine, in consultation with the Director of Legislative Research, if the preceding fiscal year's total SGF tax receipts exceed the 2024 amount, as adjusted for inflation.

The inflation adjustment would be determined by subtracting the FY 2024 SGF tax revenues multiplied by the 12-month average of the consumer price index for the preceding fiscal year in excess of the 12-month average of the consumer price index for FY 2024.

The determination would be required to be made by August 15 each year, beginning in 2025. If such receipts are in excess of the inflation-adjusted 2024 amount, the Director of the Budget would be required to certify the excess amount to the Secretary of Revenue.

The Secretary of Revenue, upon receipt of such certification, would be required to calculate and publish reductions to income and privilege tax rates as provided by the bill.

The Secretary of Revenue would be required to provide for reductions in tax rates to the nearest 0.01 percent resulting in expected reduced revenue approximately equal to the amount certified by the Director of the Budget.

Individual income tax rates would be reduced first, with both tax rates being reduced proportionally until the lower bracket reaches 4.5 percent, at which time only upper bracket rates would be reduced until the upper bracket rate reaches 4.5 percent.

Upon individual rates reaching 4.5 percent, rate reductions to the surtax rate for corporations and the normal tax rates for financial institutions would commence in corresponding amounts. Such reductions would continue until the combined normal tax and surtax for corporations reaches 4.5 percent, the combined normal tax and surtax for banks reaches 2.82 percent, and the combined normal tax and surtax for trust companies and savings and loan associations reaches 2.9 percent.

In all cases, the reduced rates would remain in effect until further reduced by the provisions of the bill.

Background

The bill was introduced by the House Committee on Taxation at the request of a representative of the Kansas Chamber of Commerce.

House Committee on Taxation

In the House Committee hearing, proponent testimony was provided by representatives of the Kansas Chamber of Commerce, Americans for Prosperity-Kansas, Americans for Tax Reform, and Kansas Bankers Association. The proponents generally stated the bill would reduce tax rates by curbing the growth in state receipts, thereby making the state a more attractive place for businesses.

Written-only proponent testimony was provided by representatives of the Kansas Agribusiness Retailers Association, Kansas Grain and Feed Association, and Renew Kansas Biofuels Association; Kansas Policy Institute; and National Federation of Independent Business.

Opponent testimony was provided by representatives of Kansas Action for Children and Kansas Association of School Boards and by an economics professor. The opponents generally stated the bill would jeopardize the financial security of the state and place a greater reliance on sales and property taxes to finance public services in the state.

Written-only opponent testimony was provided by representatives of the Kansas National Education Association and Kansas PTA.

No other testimony was provided.

The House Committee amended the bill to include rate reductions for the financial institutions privilege tax.

Fiscal Information

According to the fiscal note prepared by the Division of the Budget on the bill, as introduced, the Department of Revenue indicates enactment of the bill is not likely to trigger a rate reduction in 2025 but could reduce SGF receipts by unknown amounts in future years.

Any fiscal effect associated with enactment of the bill is not reflected in The FY 2026 Governor's Budget Report.
