

SESSION OF 2026

SUPPLEMENTAL NOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 2436

As Recommended by House Committee on Health and Human Services

Brief***

HB 2436 would include administering an emergency opioid antagonist as part of immunity from criminal prosecution for individuals rendering aid to a person who reasonably appeared to need medical assistance or who requested medical assistance from law enforcement or emergency medical services as a result of the use of a controlled substance. The bill would also define "emergency opioid antagonist" and permit the administration of an emergency opioid antagonist up to 10 years past the product's expiration date.

As defined by the bill, "emergency opioid antagonist" would mean an intranasal form of a drug that inhibits the effects of opioids and is approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration for the treatment of an opioid overdose.

Background

The bill was introduced by Representative Wikle and 24 others.

House Committee on Health and Human Services

Chiefs of Police, Kansas Police Officers Association, and Kansas Sheriffs Association; and two private citizens. The proponents generally stated that the changes would reduce costs for agencies and organizations who purchase emergency opioid antagonists, commonly known as naloxone or brand name Narcan, and save lives by allowing more of the emergency opioid antagonists to remain in circulation past the current expiration dates. The proponents noted that studies have shown that the opioid antagonist naloxone can retain high levels of efficacy for many years past the printed expiration date.

Written-only proponent testimony was provided by the Association of Community Mental Health Centers of Kansas, Behavioral Health Association of Kansas, Kansas Department of Health and Environment, Kansas Hospital Association, and three private citizens.

Written-only neutral testimony was provided by the State Board of Pharmacy.

Written-only opponent testimony was provided by the Consumer Healthcare Products Association.

No other testimony was provided.
