- The permit would be issued for the duration of the special event;

- The permit cannot be transferred;

The bill would exempt the temporary permit holder from the Keg Registration Act requirements.

basis or for the calendar year. A beer distributor can only sell cereal malt beverages to a retailer holding a license that was issued on an annual basis or for a calendar year. This does not preclude a city or county from issuing an annual license for festivals and other short term events.

Proponents of the original bill, as introduced, included representatives of the City of Wichita, Wichita Festivals Inc., and the League of Kansas Municipalities. No opponents testified before the Committee.

The Committee amended the bill to change “license” to “permit,” required the permit to be issued for the duration of the special event, deleted the requirement for the Director of ABC to issue rules and regulations, and made the temporary permit holder exempt from the Keg Registration Act requirements.

The fiscal note indicates that enactment of the bill, as introduced, would have no fiscal effect on the State budget.
