

2012 Kansas Statutes

34-126. Policy of Kansas concerning high-quality grain. It is declared to be the policy of the state of Kansas to: (1) Promote the production of high-quality grain; (2) promote storage and handling practices which will assist in the maintenance of grain quality; and (3) promote the marketing of grain of high quality to both domestic and foreign buyers. The objective of this policy is to provide greater economic incentives for production and sale of high-quality grain.

History: L. 1987, ch. 146, § 1; July 1.