

2012 Kansas Statutes

60-908. Abatement of common nuisance. A private party may enjoin the continuance of a common nuisance affecting his or her personal rights, and in addition thereto, an injunction may be granted in the name of the state to suppress the keeping or maintenance thereof. The petition may be verified on information and belief, and such an action may be brought either by the attorney general, or by a county attorney for enjoining such a nuisance within his or her county, or by a city attorney for enjoining such a nuisance within his or her city.

History: L. 1963, ch. 303, 60-908; Jan. 1, 1964.