

2012 Kansas Statutes

72-1628. Sectarian doctrines; Holy Scriptures. No sectarian or religious doctrines shall be taught or inculcated in any of the public schools of a city; but nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the reading of the Holy Scriptures, without note or comment.

History: L. 1951, ch. 395, § 42; July 1.