

Journal of the House

SIXTY-FIRST DAY

HALL OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
TOPEKA, KS, Wednesday, April 26, 2023, 9:00 a.m.

The House met pursuant to adjournment with Speaker Hawkins in the chair.

The roll was called with 124 members present.

Rep. Winn was excused on excused absence by the Speaker.

Prayer by guest chaplain, Pastor Everett Schultz, First Mennonite Church, Pretty Prairie and guest of Rep. Seiwert.

Our Father in Heaven,

We come before Thee this morning thanking you for the many blessings you have bestowed upon our great nation and upon this great state of Kansas. I want to thank you that this great state still opens each session of this House with prayer. Your Word tells us that where two or three are gathered together in Your name, there You are in the midst of them. So, I thank You that You are with us in this House right now.

I come before You today to ask for Your wisdom and guidance to be given to these people in this great hall. There are so many issues that must be addressed and probably at times these people feel that the problems are too big and too complex to be resolved. The decisions they make will affect our children and grandchildren. And yet, I know that You can provide the wisdom and guidance to solve the needs of this state and provide a better state for years to come. I pray that they will be able to make decisions that meet the needs of this great state not only for us today, but also for our children and grandchildren.

And so, Father, please bestow Your wisdom upon these people. Give them encouragement. Give them guidance. Help them to be able to discern the right decisions. Keep them from buckling to the pressures that are around them. Help them to represent the people who elected them, and to look out for the people's interests, when there may be times when it is difficult to stay the course.

During the final days of this year's session; I ask for Your encouragement, Your wisdom, and Your guidance to direct the decisions that are made. May their decisions be according to Your will. I ask it in Thy name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Rep. Seiwert.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

There being no objection, the following remarks of Rep. Moser are spread upon the Journal:

Axtell, Kansas. Population 399 as of the 2020 Census. Nestled in the northeast corner of Marshall County near the Nebraska border, this rural area is home to the Axtell Eagles. Three young farmers are Rule 10 coaches, and another assistant coach is still in college, but grew up a farm kid. Of the eighteen players on the team, ten are farm boys, and the other eight call the community of Axtell home. These rural kids enjoy GPAs from 2.7 to 4.0, with 25% of the team having perfect 4.0's. Seniors average 3.9, Juniors average 3.5, Sophomores average 3.7 and Freshmen average 3.5. 75% of the team has a 3.5 or higher GPA. In the words of high school principal of Axtell Public Schools, Gay Frazee, "This is a pretty smart team!"

In addition to keeping up their grades, they have been smart about time management, developing as healthy individuals and accomplished athletes to achieve what they have in the past two years. In the summertime prior to the start of their farm workday, many were found four mornings a week in the school weight room pumping iron and doing agilities. Come August, once the school day would end and before they headed home for chores, football practice took front and center stage. Commitment, hard work, and trust in each others' abilities as team members makes this group of young men what they are: State Champions in 8-Man, Division II Football for the 2021 and 2022 seasons.

In May of 2022, I celebrated their 2021 achievement at the Axtell School's spring banquet. I challenged them to repeat their performance so I could invite them to the House chamber to share their accomplishment with all my colleagues. And here they are.

Team Members:

Lucas Talbot, Jesse Bauer, Abram Kostal, Colin Shaughnessy, Landon Schmitz, Jaron Knowles, Rylin Buessing, Blaise Buessing, Gavin Shaughnessy, Sawyer Deters, Grady Buessing, Brandon Schmelzle, Owen Strathman, Isaac Detweiler, Grant Buessing, Evan Buessing, Eli Broxterman, Dalton Heinen.

Managers:

Riley Hasenkamp, Wyatt Detweiler, Clayton Heinen and Logan Sandmann, and Kelton Kuckelman.

Coaches:

Head coach Eric Detweiler; assistant coaches Dale Buessing, Craig Wiebe and Quinn Buessing, who currently attends Washburn University.

One interesting sidenote: The Kansas Sports Hall of Fame confirmed in late January 2023 that Axtell senior quarterback Isaac Detweiler broke an eight-man career mark. Detweiler completed 69.55 percent of his passes during his three-year Eagle career. The previous record was 64.4 percent set in 2019 by none other than assistant coach Quinn Buessing of Axtell. I am sure Isaac would be the first to tell you that record happened because of the committed, hard-working, trusted teammates that surrounded him on the field who aided him in letting his talent shine.

Please join me in congratulating this fine group of young men who are learning important life skills under the instruction of three great farmers who also happen to be great coaches.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

There being no objection, the following remarks of Rep. Chuck Smith are spread upon the Journal:

Rep. Chuck Smith introduced his guest Mr. Patrick Forbes, a respected teacher, coach, administrator and friend.

Mr. Forbes had a 42-year teaching career. He also coached boys and girls track, golf, basketball, football and softball. In addition, he was a grade school principal as well as 7th -12th grade principal at St. Mary's Colgan, in Pittsburg.

Mr. Fowler was joined on the floor by his daughter and son-in- law, Julie and Doug Story, and his son, P.J. Forbes.

Rep. Smith was joined at the well by Rep Eplee. They introduced Mrs. Kathy Hines, an educator, coach, sponsor and friend.

Mrs. Hines was a 52-year educator in Atchison. She also was coach of volleyball, track, basketball and a cheerleader sponsor. Her team won the State championship in volleyball in 1973.

Mrs. Hines was joined on the House floor by USD 409 Superintendent, Renee Nugent and Coach Jim Smith.

Rep. Chuck Smith presented both of his honorees with framed House certificates in recognition of their achievements.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

There being no objection, the following remarks of Rep. Seiwert are spread upon the Journal:

Rep. Seiwert recognized his guest, Chaplain Everett Schultz, for his dedicated service to the Kansas House of Representatives. He presented him with a framed House certificate in honor of his sixteen sessions serving as a guest chaplain.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

There being no objection, the following remarks of Rep. Rahjes are spread upon the Journal:

Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor a fellow Kansan for a lifetime of service and being recognized in her industry as a trailblazer by just doing her job. Kathy Patton Strunk raised on a Brown County farm, she began her career as an educator but through one of her many volunteer opportunities she was offered an opportunity to change careers and over 18 years she was a familiar voice and face on radio and television on WIBW in Topeka.

She also became the farm director for the Kansas Agriculture Network. Kathy reported from trade missions in Taiwan, Mexico, Germany, Southeast Asia, South America...even Bloomingdales in New York. In fact, the highlight of her career was traveling to Vietnam in 1994 where she says they hadn't seen a blonde before and hadn't seen an American since the end of the war.

Later that year, was one of those trailblazing moments when she was the first female to be named Farm Broadcaster of the Year by the National Association of Farm Broadcasting. In typical Kathy style, she was on the air when the award was presented and learned about it over the phone. While she was happy, there were still markets to report on, so she went about “just doing her job.” Last fall she was honored by NAFB as a member of their Hall of Fame and is enshrined as one of the best in telling the story of agriculture.

She always contributed back to agriculture and her community by being a founding member of the Kansas Agriculture and Rural Leadership Board and Silver Lake Education Foundation along with assisting in the first Beefest in Emporia. There are numerous other boards and events she had participated in just something that any trailblazer does.

Today is a special day for Kansas agriculture, a salute to one of the great storytellers in our history. Oh, by the way, when Kathy stepped away from broadcasting a farm kid from western Kansas was given a chance to continue telling that story, every day. Yes, it was me that followed her at WIBW.

After her time in broadcasting, she turned to service in the Kansas House of Representatives where she was Communications Director for Speaker Robin Jennison and Chief of Staff for Majority Leader Shari Weber. She also served fellow farmers as a member of the United Soybean Board.

Joining Kathy today is her husband Mike Strunk, as they continue in agriculture as they operate Strunk Harvesting near Silver Lake. Her former colleagues: current Farm Director at WIBW radio and Kansas Ag Network, Greg Akagi; former farm broadcaster, Gary Hinck; former assistant Shirley Jepson.

As you can see, much like her career, it as a team effort to celebrate as Kathy wanted these friends to be with her on the special recognition.

Today we salute Kathy Patton Strunk as a trailblazing Hall of Fame Farm Broadcaster and great Kansas citizen.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS OFFERED ON A PREVIOUS DAY

On motion of Rep. Mason, HR 6021, A RESOLUTION recognizing the 125th Anniversary of the 1898 Smoky Valley Roller Mills in Lindsborg, Kansas, was adopted.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

There being no objection, the following remarks of Rep. Mason are spread upon the Journal:

Having spent the majority of my professional life in the milling and related industries, it's with considerable honor that I present House Resolution 6021 to this chamber today.

While 125 years is a monumental amount of time for a building to stand in one location, the Smoky Valley Roller Mills, of Lindsborg, Kansas, is in fact the third mill structure built on the site. The first iteration of the mill was a water-powered structure built in 1872 by Charlie Johnson. It stood for less than 10 years before flooding in 1881. After being rebuilt in 1882 and then expanded in 1886, the mill flooded again in 1891... and then burned down in 1897. Six months later, master of the mill Theodore Teichgraber rebuilt the mill that still stands on the site today.

Before ceasing operations in 1955, the mill processed wheat, corn and rye, and also produced some grain-based baking mixes. After its closure, the mill sat unused for almost half a decade, nearly becoming derelict before steps toward restoration were made by the next series of owners, including McPherson County. In 2021 the county handed over ownership to the newly established Lindsborg Old Mill & Swedish Heritage Museum.

This is the oldest roller mill still standing in Kansas and the only one with all of its original equipment still in place. It has been not only preserved, but fully restored to operating condition and is capable of producing flour at any time. It represents the transition to modern milling in Kansas and the United States, that transition being the change from grinding with stone to grinding with corrugated steel rolls. Mills in Kansas have played a large role in securing Kansas' place as a leading producer of flour as well as wheat. Millers in central Kansas were among the earliest to endorse hard red winter wheat flour.

This mill reflects the craftsmanship and technologies of the late 19th century that continued into the 20th century. The steps for producing flour have not changed. Today's mills simply use an updated version of the machines in the Smoky Valley Roller Mill. At the time this mill was built, almost 500 mills were in operation across the state. Now there are about a dozen. Few historic mills have survived. The Smoky Valley Roller Mill is a rare exception.

The mill has a strong impact on tourism in the McPherson County area. Between 10 and 15 thousand visitors each year visit the site to see the historic mill and learn more about the agricultural heritage of the state and region. A large part of our Kansas heritage revolves around farmers working to produce quality wheat and millers working to produce quality flour. The Smoky Valley Roller Mill illustrates a very important part of that story.

With me today, are two representatives from the Lindsborg Old Mill & Swedish Heritage Museum; Marketing and Communications Director Adam Pracht, and Board President Kirsten Bruce.

This year's Millfest is May 6th, and I would personally extend an invitation to you and your families to visit this historic mill and to visit Lindsborg and McPherson County. You can learn more about the event at www.oldmillmuseum.org.

Be it further resolved: That we celebrate the hundreds of limestone creations sculpted by Felten, including his four famous Kansans in the Kansas State Capitol; and

Be it further resolved: That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall send an enrolled copy of this resolution to Representative Wasinger.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

There being no objection, the following remarks of Rep. Wasinger are spread upon the Journal:

Many of us come into the Capitol and see the larger than life limestone sculptures in the Capitol Rotunda of US President Eisenhower, aviation pioneer Amelia Earhart, Topeka journalist and former U.S. Senator Arthur Capper and Emporia journalist William Allen White. Today you will learn about Hays Artist Pete Felten, who crafted these statues over a 3-year period and whose work has no plaque or mention of his part in this art.

Pete Felten celebrated his 90th birthday this month. Today, I have a resolution to honor his legendary and iconic life-long body of work and tell you that with the help of Melissa Dixon, Director of the Hays Convention and Visitors Bureau and the City of Hays, we will make sure all visitors will know the name of Pete Felten and his work in the Capitol will be clear. Before the end of 2023 there will be brass plaques on each of the statues to attribute them to Pete Felten. Hays is immensely proud of her son and today marks our commitment to acknowledge him by the State of Kansas.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

MR. SPEAKER – Kansas needs the commitment to diversity of thought and teaching provided by Section 115(h) of HB 2184.

All of our regents universities are now using DEI statements as a prerequisite to hiring faculty. Requiring any free-thinking professor to pass a politically charged litmus test is an affront to common sense. Already the phony “diversity, equity and inclusion” standard is used to keep conservative or classic liberal professorial candidates from being hired. Diversity means conformity, equity trumps equality, and inclusion becomes exclusion and marginalization. I say Hell No to all that by voting Yes to override the Governor. – PAUL WAGGONER
